WAGE STRUCTURE AND OCCUPATIONAL WAGE RATES IN PRIVATE EDUCATION SERVICES

(Tenth of a series)

The LABSTAT Digest features summary statistics from establishment surveys of the BLES. It presents data on employment, hours of work, wages and labor relations for purposes of monitoring the dynamics of the labor market.

The October 1997 Occupational Wages Survey (OWS) covered non-agricultural establishments employing at least 50 workers. Aside from the average (mean) wage rates of time-rate workers on full time basis in 159 occupations, the survey also inquired into the distribution of these workers across industries and regions. From these distributions, the average (median) basic pay and allowance (guaranteed and regularly paid cash payments) were derived.

The field operations for the 1997 OWS was conducted by the National Statistics Office.

More than two fifths of time-rate workers in private schools received monthly basic pay between P6,000-P9,999

In October 1997, there were around 113,000 time-rate workers on full-time basis in private education services employing at least 50 persons.

More than two fifths (43.8%) of these workers received monthly basic pay between P6,000 - P9,999. (Table 1)

Notably, employees in the private schools seemed to enjoy higher pay as more than one fourth of them (28.3%) received basic pay of at least P10,000. About 22 percent had basic pay of P4,000 to P5,999, while only 6.4 percent received less than P4,000.

The median monthly basic pay in this sector was P7,624.
